

RYAN ROOT, CPA

Principal | Tax

Ryan joined the Grimbleby Coleman Tax department as a Principal in August 2021 after the merger of Ristau and Co., Inc. with Grimbleby Coleman, bringing over twenty years of accounting experience to the team. He holds a B.S. in Business Administration with a concentration in Accounting from Pacific Union College and has been a licensed CPA since 2005.

One of Ryan's unique gifts is his ability to connect with people beyond just the numbers. He has a particular talent for making the complexities of taxes easy for clients to understand, often adding a touch of humor to the mix. Ryan sums up his life's objective succinctly: "To embrace all facets of life, both the joys and challenges, thus enriching the journey."

INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

Ryan specializes in taxation and business planning, helping clients refine their business models for greater efficiency, resilience, and long-term success.
